Campout Planning

Campout planning for a basic weekend campout requires planning. Start with a big idea like a theme or foundation and then move on to the minor details. Planning 6 to 12 months in advance allows families to add campouts to their calendars, and makes it easier to book campsites.

Look at the following questions during campout planning:

- When
- What
- Where
- How
- Who
- Why

Discussion Questions:

1. What step or tip would you add to those shared in this video?
2. What is the hardest part about letting Scouts plan for their campouts?
3. What camping traditions occur within your troop?
